The Celestaphone

A Popular New Musical Novelty

$3.85

51C6808

The Celestaphone is a new thing in the musical line. It is really two instruments, Mandolin and Guitar in one. Any person, even a child with a musical ear, without special training can play it very readily with a few hours' practice. It is a keyboard instrument, and like a piano, is played by the pressure of the fingers on the keys. It has a wood body or sounding box, like that of a Zither, but across the lower end is a series of hammers of light steel spring, fitted with a metal head. These hammers can be depressed sharply, so as to produce but a single note, or they can be held down with the finger, producing a trill as perfect as that produced by an expert mandolinist. The keys are played with the right hand, while the left hand plays the accompaniment. The strings are arranged in pairs, like the mandolin; but while the mandolin has only four pairs, the Celestaphone has fifteen, and no fingering is required. In addition, it has four sets of guitar chords, producing a most pleasing accompaniment.

With every instrument we furnish a selection of music, so arranged that every note is placed right over the strings to be played. This makes it possible for an inexperienced person to become an accomplished player in a very short time. These charts include a great variety of selections. Each instrument is finely finished and polished, neatly ornamented. Packed in a strong box. Complete with tuning key, chord pick, charts for playing and a full set of instructions. Width, 13¾ in. Length, 20 in. Weight, 8 lbs.

Metronomes

Shipping weight, about 2½ lbs.

The Metronome is an instrument used by the students of music to indicate the tempo or time of the different movements in music. The upright metal rod moves backwards and forwards like an inverted pendulum. The movement is actuated by a spring, which is wound up with a key. Pendulum is fitted with a sliding weight which, moved up or down, regulates its velocity. A scale stencilled Andante, Adagio, Largo, etc., shows the proper position of the weight, so it will beat the correct time for these different movements. The time is indicated both to the eye and ear. The movement being in sight and ticking of pendulum, which is similar to that of a clock, only louder, can easily be heard. The cases are made of hardwood in a rich, dark mahogany finish and highly polished. The mechanism is made of the best materials and is accurately adjusted as a clock. All our Metronomes are built on the Maelzel System, which is the best. Height, 8½ in.

THIS staunch, rugged, Six Months' Guaranteed Work Shoe is bought, worn and recommended by farmers, miners, mechanics and other outdoor workers throughout the country. Its strength stands out wonderfully, and raises it far and away above others in its class.

This truly remarkable shoe, we firmly believe, gives the greatest value that can be regularly offered to the work shoe wearer, at this price. In its grade, it represents the last word in the shoe making ability of what is among the world's greatest tanneries and shoe factories. It is the result of years of striving to produce the ultimate in a wear-resisting work shoe at a price that will please you. It truly IS A WONDER SHOE—made in a wonderful factory—offered in a wonderful way—sold at a wonderfully low price.

A Great Work Shoe That's Built for Hard Work and Hard Wear

The uppers are made of a powerful quality of combination tanned leather, unlined—the heels are solid leather—the insoles are solid leather—the counters are solid leather. The full bellows tongue keeps the dirt out. The rivets reinforce the parts of the shoe on which the greatest strain is placed. The full vamps—not cut off under the tips, give double strength to the toes. The full double soles, double stitched and clinch nailed, are thoroughly wear-resisting. The heavy wax thread stitching is the final strengthening process with which this remarkable work shoe is treated.

What Customers Say

He Wants Another Pair

Please send me by mail order one pair of shoes No. 24C1825—No. 7—1914 catalogue. I bought a pair last year and began to wear them on the first of September and am still wearing them—they are certainly what you recommend them to be.

The Best Work Shoe He Ever Used

I purchased a pair of your 6 mo. guaranteed shoes and have worn them constantly in snow and slush, and on a cement floor, tramping on steel shavings, and they certainly live up to your guarantee. I have shown them to many others as the best work-shoe I ever used.

A Bible that came back from the Sea

Mr. J. Terry Morgan, a customer in far distant Sierra Leone, West Africa, ordered a large family Bible from us, February 24, 1915. Of course shipping to foreign lands began to be discouraging with the very beginning of the war, but our Export Department usually found some means to see that our friends in Africa, and even in battle-ridden Europe, should be given service.

The Bible Mr. Morgan ordered is a bulky book, weighing eleven pounds when packed. With a number of other orders from abroad it was sent to Liverpool, England, the agent there immediately arranging to have it forwarded by parcel post.

The Bible, in a stout canvas bag with other African shipments from us, was put aboard the steamship Falaba. The seas all around the coast of Great Britain were menaced by mines and submarines and the Falaba was destroyed before it got very far.

By chance the mail bag was blown open by the explosion and floated free from the wreckage. It drifted ashore and was picked up somewhere on the coast of Scotland. The finder, noting the agent's name, returned it to him at Liverpool. Our agent wrote us all about the strange adventure of the book, asking for disposition. We, of course, told him by all means to return the Bible for our collection of relics.

The Bible came back a short time ago, a little watersoaked, the covers loose, but still readable to the last word.

In the meantime, in far-off Sierra Leone, Mr. J. Terry Morgan was waiting for his Bible, and after three months wrote us asking where it was. Even before his letter reached us we had sent him another Bible and explained what had happened to the first one. The second Bible did not reach Mr. Morgan, because the best speed of steamship and railroad was not fast enough to get it to him on time. Early in June, 1915, we received the following letter from his mother:

"I beg to report to you the death of my dear son, J. Terry Morgan, who departed this life on the 23rd of May, 1915. I feel it as a duty to give you this information, he being one of your customers."

We treasure very highly this Bible that "came out of the sea."

Steamer Falaba Destroyed

Bound for West Africa

SANK IN BROAD DAYLIGHT

The British steamer Falaba of the Elder Line, a ship of 3,011 tons, left Liverpool, England, for the west coast of Africa Saturday, March 27, and Sunday afternoon, while proceeding through St. George's Channel was chased and destroyed by a submarine.

The total cost of life was 111. The fishing boat Eileen Emma rescued 139 of the persons struggling in the water and brought them to Milford Haven.

It was claimed that the Falaba attempted to escape and signaled for help while being pursued, and was torpedoed only upon approach of other vessels from which attacks might be expected.

This is really your drug department as well as ours

A YEAR ago we decided to make a special toilet soap offer to our customers. The main object was to sell a better soap at a lower price than ever. So we got up an unusually good assortment and counted on selling it in such large quantities that we could cut the price to the minimum.

Our first factory delivery was only 25,000 cakes. A week later we received 50,000 cakes more. Then we sent in an order for 250,000 cakes. That stock disappeared within two months. Our customers saw the price and soon knew the good quality of the soap. We next ordered two million more cakes of this toilet soap—and the sales are climbing higher every day. The customer is profiting.

Another interesting example of unusual merchandising in our Drug Department is found in Paris Green. Almost everyone is familiar with this insecticide and its many uses. It means much to the gardens and orchards of America. We sell tons of it every year.

When the European conflict was at its height, over a year ago, the price of Paris Green, as well as most other chemicals, went soaring. Paris Green contains a large amount of copper sulphate, which is used in high explosives.

It was proven upon investigation that Montgomery Ward & Co. controlled the largest supply of Paris Green in the United States. And here again we gave our customers the benefit of our low cost. It could have been sold by us to wholesale dealers for more than we were selling it for.

These are merely illustrations, but they suggest sound reasons why you can buy your drug and sundry needs for less money from Montgomery Ward & Co. We give you the benefit of every price saving that foresight and enormous buying power is capable of securing.

And what is of as great importance: Our Drugs, Drug sundries and chemicals are clean, fresh and unadulterated. Do not overlook that point.

53C4263—Extra Batteries.....25c
Shipping weight, 2 ounces.

This is a radical departure in instruments for the relief of moderate deafness. Works on the same principle as a telephone. Operated by a small, compact dry battery which intensifies the natural sounds. Battery is carried in the vest pocket or inside the waist. The transmitter or sound-gathering part of the instrument is worn out of sight under the coat or waist. Its sensitiveness to sound is remarkable. The earpiece or receiver may be held in the hand when used by a man, or, when worn by a woman, it may be concealed under the hair by means of a light head device which is part of every outfit.

May be worn at church, lectures, theatres, public gatherings, etc., and not detected. Sensitive persons, especially, appreciate this device because of the small, yet powerful apparatus which can be so easily concealed. For a strictly high-class hearing aid we strongly recommend this apparatus. This is the same ear phone that is sold throughout the country for as high as $40.00, and is giving extreme satisfaction.

We recommend that an extra battery be bought with the Ear Phone so as to give one a rest while the other is in use.

The Louis XVI Style Solid French Ivory

With a Light Blue Border or Plain

This is the very latest style in French ivory and with the light blue border, as shown in the illustration, is the prettiest effect that has been shown in toilet articles. There is just enough of the blue in just the right shade to give a stunning effect which will make a beautiful showing.

From present indications this is going to be one of the most popular ideas in the French Ivory line from now on. We feel very fortunate in procuring this pattern as it will make a strong appeal to every woman who cares for just enough color to add beauty and relieve the monotony.

For those who do not prefer the blue we have the same pattern in the plain ivory. This pattern has such graceful lines and presents such a pleasing appearance that we recommend it as the one which will make a most acceptable gift.

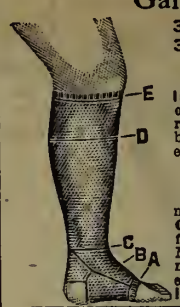
Woven elastic garments are a necessity in the treatment of varicose veins, when they are used for compression to prevent rupture of the veins and the ulceration which might follow. These stockings and pieces are frequently used to protect broken limbs and to help the bones knit better.

The materials used in making these elastic garments are new stock and the best grades—being selected for their wearing qualities. The silk is an exceptional quality in heavy strands. The cotton is of the fine long fiber variety. The elastic is all covered, thus assuring comfort and long wear.

Measurements.



Take measurements carefully at places indicated by each letter in the illustration. Be sure to give the length from the lowest letter to the highest. For example: For a garter stocking you would take the circumference at A, B, C, D, and E; also the length from floor to E, inside of limb.

For stockings extending above and below the knee, be sure to take circumference at F; also length from lowest point to F, and from F to highest point. For thigh and knee cap give circumference at E, F, G, H, and I. For hand piece, give circumference at U, V, W, and length from U to W, also state whether for right or left hand. Measurements should be taken, if possible, in the morning when the limbs are the least swollen.

Give exact measurements to the smallest fraction of an inch. We will allow for expansion when weaving the piece. It requires three or four days' time for making the piece, in addition to the regular time required for shipping.

Always state whether silk or cotton is wanted. Silk is more comfortable and will wear longer

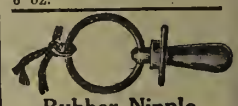
Think of it! Not a One Over Four Cents



It's remarkable that you can buy so many different useful articles, each for the small sum of 4 cents. It's the truth, nevertheless. Look them over. You'll probably find any number that you can use, if not now, perhaps later. Little articles for general use in the home. They have been selected for this page not only because of their usefulness and their good value, but for the saving they afford you. This saving which is on an average about 25 per cent over retail prices, includes not only the articles illustrated here but the merchandise in general, shown throughout our Catalogue.

Bear in mind that the railroads charge you just as much for any weight under 100 lbs. as if your shipment amounted to that much. Let your next order for merchandise include some of these items. You might as well. You not only save a lot on the articles, but they will cost you nothing extra by freight. Don't forget these little values when making up your next order.

Dictionaries At Saving Prices

Webster's School and College Dictionary

Based upon the Solid Foundation laid by Noah Webster and revised, edited and compiled by the American Board of Lexicography.

Webster's School and College Dictionary contains nearly 1,200 pages; is printed on thin, tough, opaque Bible paper bound in limp leather, Bible style, stamped in gold. It is also bound in extra cloth, which is page for page the same as the leather binding. Either style is calculated to last a life time and is the greatest dictionary for its size in the world. Size, 5½x7½ in.

Both leather and cloth editions contain numerous color plates, such as fish, flowers, fruit, timber, plumage, birds, etc.; also duotone pictures of the latest turbine engine, fire engine, submarine under test, naval guns, battleships, largest ship afloat, printing press, photography, stamp printing machine, aeroplanes, Zeppelins, pulmotor, locomotives, wireless telegraph, etc.

In addition to the comprehensive vocabulary of the English language, this wonderful dictionary contains a tremendous appendix of useful information, comprising nearly 200 pages. One department alone—The Principal Commercial and Financial Terms of the Civilized World in English Languages, is worth a hundred times the price charged for this book to those interested in world commerce. But in addition to this are many other valuable aids.

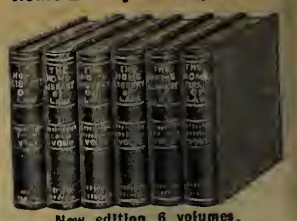
Commercial Law Story Case Form

Six Wonderful Volumes for only $7.70

57C4644

Over 2000 Pages—Covering over 8000 Law Principles. Law Made Plain



Now Let Us Explain—Legal experts from leading universities compiled the great law library. They realized the layman's need for a working knowledge of commercial law. So they took the Harvard Case System, which is the method of instruction in the leading universities and reduced it to plain, simple English. They cut out all ponderous, legal phrases and left only the meat—the real law. Then, to make it interesting, they added a story-case illustrating that point of law. The Ruling of the court and the Answer is presented in an authoritative way, simple and easy to understand.

Every Point Indexed—Instant Reference

With Commercial Law Story-Case Form in your library you don't have to consult a lawyer—you don't have to pay big fees to get simple advice—and you can always be sure that the things you do in connection with your business or your home are perfectly legal.

This epoch-making set of books comprises six large volumes, each 6¼x9 inches, bound in Vellum De Luxe Cloth. Tables in colors. Large readable type. At our price a wonderful bargain. We guarantee satisfaction. Shipping weight 13 pounds.

Reliance Visible Typewriter

$48.50

Standard Features

1. Writing is visible at all times.
2. Standard keyboard, with one shift, same as used on all the best machines.
3. Standard 9/16-inch key depression, which gives greatest speed with least effort.
4. Light-running, ball-bearing carriage.
5. Rapid Escapement. Doubling up or lapping of letters impossible.
6. Light shift key action.
7. Easily adjusted marginal stops.
8. Back spacer key, the same as on all other standard machines.

of the Reliance

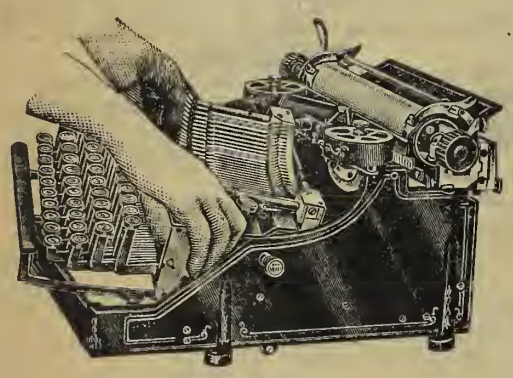
9. Six or more tabulator stops make the Reliance especially adapted for billing and other commercial work.
10. Positive line lock prevents any doubling up of letters at end of line.
11. Adjustable paper table and feed roller make possible the insertion of bulky papers.
12. Key strikes a quick, hard blow, enabling operator to make from 8 to 10 carbon copies at one time.

Standard in Everything Except Price

The Reliance is an open front, visible typewriter, similar in size, design, appearance, and mechanical features to the other widely advertised standard machines.

It has a light, easy and uniform touch. The action is quick and practically noiseless. It is compact, with all keys, shifts and levers within easy reach of the operator. It turns out clean, accurate work with the least effort, and can be operated easily by the beginner as well as by the expert. In short, it embodies all that is best in typewriter construction, is absolutely dependable, and will prove a credit to any office.

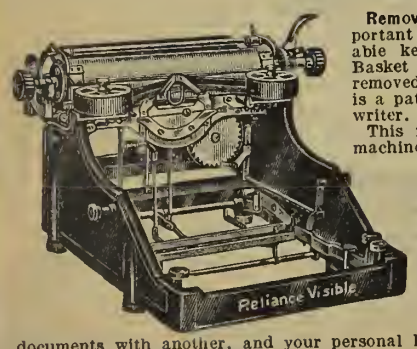
The Reliance is essentially a business typewriter, designed to meet every business need. With its standard construction, light, quick action, durability and many time-saving attachments for billing, invoicing, manifolding, etc., it is an ideal machine for use in big offices; while its extreme simplicity and ease of operation make it equally well suited for the man who does his own typing without the aid of an expert stenographer.



The Reliance is simply constructed, easy to understand and easy to keep in condition. There are no superfluous parts. The complicated adjustments which are a complete mystery to the users of so many other machines, and which call for the repair man so often, are entirely missing from the Reliance.

It is strongly constructed throughout. The type bars and other working parts are made from superior tool steel, and are practically indestructible. The Reliance will stand hard usage and continuous service as well as any typewriter made.

We have had Reliance Typewriters in constant operation in our store for months. They have been used on all kinds of work by experienced operators, and have been subjected to harder tests than you would probably ever put them to. Not only have they compared favorably with the other machines we are using, but their work has been so satisfactory that we have decided to use them exclusively in all our stores. This is the strongest evidence we can offer as to the writing qualities and durability of the Reliance.



The Reliance is not an experiment. Under a well known, widely advertised trade name it has been on the market for years, and those who have used it are enthusiastic in its praise.

Removable Type Basket

The removable type basket makes the Reliance a remarkably simple machine to operate, for it removes all mystery from its construction. As you will see by illustration, when the basket is removed, all the working parts are clearly visible, and easy of access. This offers the best possible opportunity for getting at the interior of your typewriter, for oiling or adjustment. This one special feature makes the Reliance easier to understand, and easier to keep in condition, than any other standard machine on the market today. It should especially appeal to those who are buying typewriters for their own use, and who wish to take care of their own machines without the aid of an expert repair man.

Removable Independent Keyboard

Removable, Independent Keyboard. The most important special feature of the Reliance is its removable keyboard. By simply lifting the key marked Basket Lock, the entire keyboard can be instantly removed from the machine. (See illustration.) This is a patented feature, and is found in no other typewriter.

This feature doubles or triples the value of your machine, for it enables you to write in nearly all languages, and with many styles of type.

We can furnish extra keyboard for Russian, Greek, or Bulgarian, at a moderate extra cost. These can be inserted in your machine in a minute's time. Any other European language can be written with the regular keyboard. We make our regular keyboards with four styles of type: Pica, medium Roman, elite, and small italic. By purchasing extra keyboards you can write your business letters with one style of type, your records and legal documents with another, and your personal letters with a third, by simply lifting out one type basket and inserting another.

The Only Standard Typewriter Sold for Less than $75.00

With the single exception of the Reliance, there is not a strictly standard machine on the market today at less than $75.00. It alone meets the steadily increasing demand for a moderate priced typewriter, with all the standard features.

The Reliance costs just as much to produce as any machine made. It is made of just as good materials. It is finished with the same care. It has all the modern improvements and all the latest time and labor saving attachments, as we have shown you in the preceding paragraphs. In writing efficiency, in durability, and in appearance, it is easily the equal of any of the other seven standard machines which are sold the country over at $100.00.

Thirty Days' Free Trial

Let us send you one of these splendid machines on 30 days' trial. Set it beside any other standard typewriter. Compare them point by point, feature by feature. Notice the touch, the action, the quality of the work, the ease of operation. Try the Reliance on any kind of work. Use it for billing, invoicing, manifolding or stencil work. Put it to any test you see fit. And if at the end of 30 days it does not prove entirely satisfactory—if it is not all that we claim it to be, or if it does not compare favorably with any other standard machine, you may return it at our expense, and your money will be promptly refunded, if you reside in any part of the United States proper.

So great is our confidence in the Reliance that we are willing to take all the risk in order that you may give it a thorough trial.

No one can offer you a better or more reliable machine. No one is today selling so good a typewriter for the same money. You will make a serious mistake if you buy without first examining the Reliance.

Guaranteed for One Year

We guarantee every Reliance Typewriter to reach you in perfect working condition. We will replace free of all charge, any part that proves defective, either in material or workmanship, within one year from date of sale.

With every Reliance typewriter we include: Metal Carrying Case; Typewriter Brush; Bottle of Typewriter Oil; One Typewriter Ribbon, bicolor; Book of Instructions, all carefully packed in wooden box.

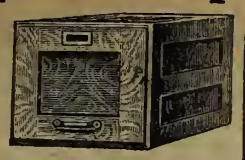
System in Business Will Surely Increase Your Income



Every one, the merchant, farmer or grain dealer as well as the banker, can use an efficient filing system. Many farmers now have offices right in their homes to handle the work of the world-wide business, farming. As the corn elevator is replacing the shovel, so is up-to-date, convenient and inexpensive office furniture replacing the more or less careless accounting. A careful system of keeping your records, receipts and accounts generally will save you many a dollar in the course of a year. Look through this offering of office furniture and compare the quality and price with other merchandise of similar character. You will be surprised to learn that modern office equipment costs you no more than you may have paid for old style business furniture—probably even less. We know we can save you good money on our quality merchandise. Also, we guarantee full satisfaction to you, or refund your money, as well as transportation charges both ways.

Heavy Steel Safes Guard Your Valuables Day and Nigh

Choose One with Good, Heavy Walls of Extra Burglar and Fire Resistance

Improved Reinforced Construction

The outer body of our safes is made of one continuous steel plate or jacket, heavy and substantial. The entire fronts and backs of our safes are made of a Single Solid Plate of pressed steel, the whole being electrically welded together. No rivets to break. Thus we do away with the separate angles, rivets and loose parts used by most manufacturers. The one-piece front and back give the safe great strength and solidity, and also greatly improve the appearance of the safe.

The inside cabinet work in all of our safes is constructed with an Air Chamber, around the entire cabinet, making a double wall cabinet, the one being built snugly into the wall of the safe, while the cabinet proper is put in after the safe is complete. This effectually prevents the safe from gathering dampness on the inside, when kept closed for a long period of time. The cash box is made of pressed steel instead of cast iron, and the workmanship throughout is of the best.

The fire-proof cement filling contains the best known high grade fire-resisting ingredients. This cement also solidifies the entire structure of the safe, besides surrounding it on all sides, and in all parts with the best heat resister science has discovered.

Utmost Value for the Money

The front doors are massive and substantial. Fitted with heavy hinges fastened in such way as not to weaken any part of the frame. With nickel-plated hinge tips.

The combination locks are the very latest, improved. Unpicksble and long wearin Mechanism is simple and positive, and will not get out of order. The locks are capable an indefinite number of changes. Fitted with handsome nickel-plated dial, and knob.

Our safes are finely made from start to finish and contain many valuable features improvements not found in other makes. The fire-resisting qualities of our safes are unc celled by any others of similar size and price. We know from actual experience that our sa have stood the tests in many fires, and their contents have been preserved intact and from damage.

Our safes are all shipped to you in a fresh, bright condition, direct from factory. Usua finished and decorated after the order is received, which at times causes a delay of from to 20 days in making shipment. Shipment is made at the earliest possible moment. Each is securely padded, and burlapped for shipment.

Note: We put your name on safe, in gold letters, when so ordered. (Our name does appear on the safe.)

Remington U. M. C. Ammunition in All Standard Calibers and Size

Ammunition

A great many people are not aware of the fact that the ammunition used in a fire arm is of about as much importance in getting the game, as is the gun itself.

The history of American marksmanship is conclusive proof of the importance of using the right ammunition. A gun is simply a machine to hold and discbarge a bullet, and no matter what the beauty of it or the perfection of its mechanism may be, you must aimply have the best ammunition manufactured in order to get the best results.

The making of a successful cartridge is a professional secret in a large measure. The general principles involved may be well known, but the details—the skilled workmanship, the fine machinery, the chemical knowledge—are things which the manufacturer naturally treasures.

The finest ammunition in the world, especially for breech-loading small arms, is manufactured in the United States. Team after team of marksmen of this country and of foreign countries using American ammunition,—the specific ammunition which we quote in these pages—has carried off the gold medals and world's rifle championships. Cartridge making has become not only a science but a fine art. The science comes first in adjusting and priming an explosive charge to the bullet that does the work, and second in the construction of all the parts of the cartridge. There is a stretching and shaping of the copper or brass shell, the arrangement of means of igniting, packing of the powder charge, the explosive force of given quantities of black and smokeless powders, the weight, shape and composition of the bullet and its insertion in the shell. All of these things have to be carefully considered, and all have been carefully considered by us in choosing the ammunition which we know is of the very best in the world to give to our customers. When you buy ammunition from us, you may be sure that there is none better.

Metallic cartridges, loaded with smokeless powder, are all the same shape and size as regular black powder cartridges, but have fewer grains of powder in them. Any other kind of cartridge, not on this list, will be furnished at the lowest market price. If ordered with other goods they will be shipped directly from the factory. Cartridges can be shipped with other goods by express or freight, but ca oe sent by parcel post. We do not send cartridgss C. O. D.

Our prices are as low as any that can be offered on stan ammunition. We advise using only factory loaded smokeless cartri Soft point bullets have a metal patch or pocket to the point, and the bullet strikes it will expand to good effect in animal tissue. full metal case gives greater penetration. All cartridges have bullets unless otherwise stated.

Note—M. P. means metal patched bullets. S. P. means soft p bullets.

Why Gun Barrels Burst

Of Interest to Every Gun Owner. Gun barrels do not burst, of course, without a cause, but usually that cause is one of which the shooter is entirely ignorant, but nevertheless, no one is responsible but himself. Gun barrels can only burst by having some obstruction in the barrel, or by overloading with nitro powder. Any gun barrel can be burst by misuse or by carelessly loading smokeless powder, but no barrel will burst by using factory-loaded ammunition, provided there is no obstruction or foreign substance inside the barrel. When a gun barrel bursts at the breach or chamber, it is caused by an overloaded shell, and when it bursts in the center or near the muzzle, it is caused by some obstruction, such as a dent, snow, mud, etc.

Hunters' Clothing Specially Designed for Comfort, Warmth and Service

We have selected this line of hunting clothing with the greatest care and are positive that any garment you select will give long, and satisfactory service. We use only the best material, selected for grade and price. Garments are perfectly stitched and cut over the largest patterns that it is possible to use for hunting clothing. These patterns are proportioned to give perfect ease and comfort, they allow for fullness in the arm holes, elbow and throughout the skirt. The coats are made with the usual pockets both regular and for game. Carefully made gussets placed under the arms and shoulders are substantially reinforced. Remember, the most important factors in a hunting coat are perfect arm and shoulder play, plenty of pocket room, material that stands the wear and tear of the bushes, and a color that blends with nature's coloring. Our hunting coats are all that can be desired in these respects. The designer is a hunter of long experience and knows exactly what is wanted by sportsmen.

Hunting coats are made in sizes 36, 38, 40, 42, 44 and 46 chest measure. We use the same material from year to year, changing only when something new and better, which will improve our product, is obtainable.

When ordering, be sure to state chest measure.

Collar Turned Down Collar Turned Up

Our Combination High Roll Auto Collar insures a warm neck and well protected throat.

In ordering coats, give chest measuramant. Hunting coats are made larger around in proportion than ordinary coats. This is done to afford room for game, shells, etc. We cannot furnish regularly any other sizes than those given.

When ordering Hunting Clothing of any kind, be sure to state size wanted
